The drawing of the sixteenth century Ogeechee Indian by Mack Nash is from original drawings by Jacques le Moynes, made on expeditions to the "New World" under Ril aut and Laudonnierres. The sketches and drawings are re-produced in Voyages en Virginie et en Floride, Paris, 1927.

From 1935 . . .

The history of Armstrong College is much more than a recital of names and dates. Founded on May 27, 1935, by the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Savannah, Armstrong met a long felt need for a junior college. Throughout the fifteen years of its history, it has proved an intellectual force directing the lives of its students and has taken a prominent place in the community life of Savannah

FIRST STUDENT BODY

. . . to 1950

The first college building was the magnificent home of the late George F. Armstrong, a gift to the city from his widow and his daughter. The former home, now called the Armstrong Building, is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South. Over the years, through donations and public appropriation, the campus has been enlarged until it now includes five additional buildings: the Lane

Building, a gift of the late Mills B. Lane, prominent banker; John W. Hunt Memorial Building in which are located the Student Center, the Home Economics Department, the Women's Lounge, and the Music Room; Herschel V. Jenkins Hall, which contains the auditorium, theatre for the Savannah Playhouse, and classrooms; Thomas Gamble Hall, site of science lecture rooms and laboratories; and Hodgson Hall, which, through an agreement with the Georgia Historical Society, houses the Armstrong College Library

The college is under the control of a commission of six members, appointed by the Mayor In addition, the commission includes as ex-officio members the Mayor, the Chairman of the Chatham County Board of Education, the Chairman of the County Commissioners, the Superintendent of the Board of Education, and the President of the Savannah Chamber of Commerce.

Now entering into its sixteenth year, Armstrong is looking forward to as brilliant a future as its past.

Dedication

This fifteenth anniversary edition of the 'GEECHEE is gratefully dedicated to our President, Foreman M. Hawes, who, throughout the history of Armstrong, has played so important a role. His constant courage, his interest in each individual, and his strong leadership have been an inspiration to every student throughout the years.

THE DEBATING TEAM

The development of one's oratorical ability and the opportunity to learn more about current issues is the dual purpose of the Debating Team. This club has made several trips to challenge fellow debators from other colleges throughout the year. Dean Orson Beecher is the Debating Team Coach.

The purpose of the Science Club is to acquaint the students of Armstrong with the connection between academic training and various fields of science with the help of guest speakers, scientific pamphlets, motion pictures, and various other methods. It also strives to extend the reputation of the Armstrong Science Department, to introduce students to persons employed in the various fields of science, and to promote closer fellowship between members of this organization through social activities. Faculty advisor for this club is Miss Douglas.

The Armstrong College Glee Club, open to all students, through audition, serves a dual purpose. While providing an opportunity in choral singing for the students, it furnishes the school with music for various occasions.

The 1949-50 season has proved one of the most successful in its history. Under the direction of Mrs. Smith, the Glee Club has sung for many civic organizations in Savannah and other cities, for assembly programs at the college and gave highly successful Christmas and Spring concerts which highlighted the musical season in Savannah.

Savannah

Carlson Thomas, Director

The Savannah Playhouse of Armstrong College is an example of a community project sponsored and directed by the college. Local citizens as well as students may gain here actual experience in acting, designing, construction, lighting, make-up and all the theater skills that make a good production.

Reactivated in 1947 after a five-year suspension of activity, the Playhouse quickly established its reputation as one of the leading non-professional theaters in the South.

The 1949-50 season has proceeded with outstanding success in spite of difficulties that would have given pause to a less determined group.

The first play of the season, I Remember Mamma, went off without a hitch. However, the second production, Charley's Aunt, had hardly been cast when Playhouse Director Carlson Thomas was severely injured in an automobile accident. Barely escaping with his life, Mr. Thomas faced a lengthy treatment and hospitalization.

An Armstrong student who had a background of professional stage experience was recruited to fill in as director. Ross Durfee directed Charley's Aunt, which was presented on schedule. Then, as Mr. Thomas was still unable to return to Armstrong, he continued with casting and direction of the "heaviest" play of the season, The Barretts of Wimpole Street. This play, with a cast of seventeen, proved to be one of the most popular of the Playhouse productions.

As the 'GEECHEE goes to press, Mr. Thomas is bringing to a close rehearsals for the fourth production of the 1949-50 season, The Drunkard. Nancy Page Smith, Director of Music at Armstrong, is working with Mr. Thomas on this production as Musical Director.

Ross Durfee, Acting Director

Members:

Student Senate

The Student Senate is the governing body of the students at Armstrong. Its membership consists of representatives from all recognized clubs in the school, the presidents of the two classes, and the Editors of the three college publications.

The president of the Sophomore Class heads the Senate as president and the president of the Freshman Class is vice-president. Mr. Beecher is the faculty advisor.

COACH CARMEN TORRIE

Despite the fact that the Armstrong gym was completely destroyed by fire immediately following their first home conference game, the 'Geechees had a successful season under Coach Torrie—winning 14 games and losing 8. In the state tournament, the 'Geechees were runners up with Sal Desposito making the all-state team. This is the third consecutive year Armstrong has placed in the state tournament, winning first place in 1948 and third place in 1949.

20th Century Johnny Appleseed

We like to think of the 4-H Club and F. F. A. member who plants pine seedlings as the 20th century counterpart of Johnny Appleseed who, in his travels through the Middle West in the early part of the last century, planted apple seed along the highways and by-ways.

The seed that Johnny Appleseed planted produced trees which bore fruit that contributed to the health and well-being of peoples of many communities, just as the pine seedling which the farm youth plants today on soils too poor to grow field crops will contribute to the welfare of all Georgians.

Growing trees for tomorrow is a most important part of our forest conservation program. Since the opening of our Savannah plant we have planted on our land and donated to 4-H Club and F. F. A. members for planting on land owned by their parents or for use on forestry projects, more than 15 million pine seedlings.

Already many of these seedlings, planted only 14 years ago, are producing income for their owners and raw materials for the forest products industries of the state—a 300-million dollar annual business providing employment for more than 120,000 Georgians.

"A picture is worth a Thousand words," BUT . . .

your readers will be blind to your picture and its meaning unless your engraving retains the details of the copy or excels the copy itself. Only experienced craftsmen of the engraving art can preserve the values that give your engravings punch!
